Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm a senior software developer with over 15 years of experience building web applications. For the past six years I was the lead developer on the Government of Alberta's UI component library (design.alberta.ca), the shared library that development teams across the GoA use to build their services. I'm looking for my next role, and I'd welcome the chance to bring that experience to your team.

As Sr. Software Developer and Team Lead from 2020 to 2026, I was the library's lead developer and architect. I oversaw and reviewed the team's code and took on the most complex patterns and components myself. Because so many other teams built on our work, every decision had to hold up at scale: components needed to be robust, maintainable and easy for other developers to adopt.

Before joining the government, I worked as a senior developer at CenturyLink and Showbie, and was promoted to architect at Drivewyze in less than a year. Across all of these roles my focus has been the same: clean, maintainable code, sound architecture, and helping the people around me do their best work.

I'd be glad to talk about how I can help your team. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Chris Olsen
